

Appendix

Outpatient clinics have a relatively simple workflow. Those which complicated it with variations such as separating supervision with some staff reporting to a clinic manager and some staff reporting to the hospital made productivity worse.

